Rother District Council elections - result

Published on Friday 6 May 2011 16:07

THERE were a few changes in today's Rother District Council elections, with four independent candidates standing winning a seat, along with two gains by the Labour Party.

All independent candidates standing in Bexhill gained seats.

Overall control of the council remains with a heavy Conservative majority of 27.

The Liberal Democrats took the heaviest losses, dropping from eight seats to five.

The turnout was the highest in several years, averaging at 48 per cent, almost half of the total electorate.
